

These plants are New York tough

Begonia: The Shady Hero

Begonias are the versatile champions of city gardens, thriving in shade and adding a pop of color to any urban spot. These resilient plants tolerate heat and humidity, making them perfect for brightening up shady street corners.

Coleus: Colorful Camouflage

Coleus is the master of vibrant foliage, bringing a splash of color to any urban landscape. Tough and adaptable, it thrives in both sun and shade, making it the perfect plant to survive and thrive in the Big Apple.

Sweet Potato Vine: The Urban Draper

Sweet Potato Vine is the ultimate trailing plant, adding lush, cascading greenery to city spaces. Hardy and fast-growing, it can handle heat and poor soil, making it an ideal choice for tough urban conditions.

Celosia: Flame of the City

Celosia, with its fiery, plume-like flowers, lights up any urban garden. These tough plants thrive in heat and poor soil, standing tall and vibrant even in the most challenging conditions.

Mezzobium: The Resilient Rosette

Mezzobium is a stunning succulent known for its rosette shape and resilience. Drought-tolerant and able to thrive in poor soil, this plant is perfect for adding a touch of elegance to urban settings.

Dusty Miller: The Silver Survivor

Silver Bullet Artemisia (aka Dusty Miller) is a rugged beauty, with silvery foliage that stands out in any city garden. Drought-tolerant and low maintenance, it thrives in poor soil and harsh conditions, making it a true urban survivor.

Cuphea: The City Sparkler

Cuphea, known for its small, vibrant flowers, adds a burst of color to urban gardens. Heat-tolerant and able to thrive in poor soil, this resilient plant brings continuous blooms to the toughest city spots.

Lantana: The Heat Hero

Lantana is a tough, heat-loving plant that bursts with colorful flowers all summer long. Drought-resistant and resilient, it's perfect for bringing vibrant life to sunny, challenging urban environments.

Meet these neighbors

Like true New Yorkers, these plants are resilient and unstoppable.

Begonia
The Shady Hero

Coleus
Colorful Camouflage

Sweet Potato Vine
The Urban Draper

Celosia
Flame of the City

Native Bee
A Nonstop Pollinator

Meezu
Resilient Rosette

Dusty Miller
The Silver Survivor

Cuphea
The City Sparkler

Lantana
The Heat Hero

